

Letter of intent with investment bank. The company should at this point select an investment bank and formalize its arrangement with the investment bank pursuant to a "letter of intent" outlining the investment bank's fees, the size of the offering, the price ranges and other parameters.